BRYANT IN PERIL

Bark With Sugar Cargo
Struck By a Squall.

Settled On the Sand Bottom Near the Channel Entrance—Moved Off and Sent to Sea.

Shortly before 5 p. m. yesterday, the C. D. Bryant started out for San Francisco with a full cargo of sugar. On account of the fact that the tug boat was on the marine railway and all the island steamers save the Lehua had departed, it became necessary to secure the services of the Lehua to tow the Bryant out. The weather looked favorable and Captain Colly was anxious to get away.

Just at making the start the C. D.
Bryant stuck in the mud and Captain Lorenzen, the pilot who took her out, jokingly remarked that he did not believe the vessel wanted to go.

The Lehua succeeded in getting the Bryant out of the mud and was towing her out of the channel with a light breeze from the north. Suddenly there was a heavy squall which caught the Bryant full on the starboard side. The Lehua was powerless to do anything and the vessel went on the sand bar abreast of the spar buoy just at the edge of the narrowest part of the passage.

The Bryant was stuck fast and the Lehua was useless. Captain Lorenzen ordered a second line out. This was attached to the large new buoy and the steady heaving with the winch took the Bryant out of the difficulty.
It was thought at first that the vessel would have to be brought back again into port, but Captain Fuller tested the pumps and found the ship without leaks. He together with Mr.
Schultze of Hackfeld & Co.'s and Captain Colly, held a short conference and it was finally decided to send her on her voyage.

The Lehua steamed ahead with her tow line and in a short time the Bryant was clear of the channel. When Captain Lorenzen left her, she had part of her sails set and a fair breeze had started up.

Should the captain find anything wrong with his ship after leaving the Lehua, he will undoubtedly put back into port.

The squall which overpowered the Lehua and placed the Bryant in peril came very suddenly and in the middle of a heavy fall of rain. From the docks, the vision for a few minutes was cut off at the lighthouse. All the sailor men on the front said at once that the bark would get into trouble. The Bryant is well known in this port having been making Honolulu a port of call for several years. She carries sugar and merchandise in busy season and "tween seasons" fetches guano from the south.

While the Bryant was in the sand, she was stuck still and it was an interesting sight from shore, with the Lehua tugging away for all she was worth and bobbing about like a cork.
Captain Andrews, of the Inter-Island steamer, is gaining a lot of experience lately at towing, as he brought in the dismasted Arago.

FUNERAL.
Burial Services By Masons for
Chas. W. Day.

There was a very heavy downpour of rain a few minutes before the hour set for the funeral of Chas. W. Day yesterday afternoon. Notwithstanding the weather the attendance at the Masonic Temple at 2:30 was very large. The hall was crowded when the body arrived.
The pall bearers were Minister King, Col. J. H. Soper, T. F. Lansing, A. F. Gillfillan, J. Phillips and J. A.
Gilman, all prominent Masons. The casket as it was taken from the hearse to the large room above was covered with flowers. Other floral offerings had been sent to the hall in advance.

The services were brief, but solemn and impressive. The Masonic ritual was used and the leader in the ceremony was Mr. E. I. Spalding. Responses were by the large number of Masons present. Mrs. Grace Richards-Woodward sang "Nearer My God to Thee" most feelingly and sweetly.
Wray Taylor sat at the organ. Dr. C.
B. Wood escorted the widow of Mr.
Day.

From the temple the procession went by the most direct route to the Nuuanu cemetery, where the casket containing all that was mortal of Chas. W. Day, was placed in a vault to await the return of his son, Dr. F. R. Day, from the Coast. The attendance upon the funeral included besides the many causal friends and acquaintances of Mr. Day a large representation of the Central Union congregation and nearly all the members and employees of the house of Castle & Cooke, Ltd.

There was a concluding Masonic ceremony over the body at the cemetery. H. H. Williams was the funeral director.

They Are

Reliable.

Saturday evening, January 29th, a party of eight left the city for a trip around the Island on bicycles. The list was made up of some of the leading wheels represented here, among them a '97 Overland Special which is handled by the HONOLULU BICYCLE CO. The Overland was the only wheel in the lot which made the trip without trouble of any kind. OVERLANDS are the kind of wheels that take you away from home, and bring you back again.

By the last Australia, we received a few samples of the '98 OVERLANDS.
They are as much superior to the '97 product as daylight is superior to darkness, and are without any exceptions, the most beautiful models, and the highest grade wheels ever shown here for anything near the price which we shall sell them—$65. We defy all competition, even at a much higher figure.
